Collaborative Art Game

Set Up: Make two copies of page 1 on cardstock paper. Cut along the dash lines on both copies. Use the second page as a frame and use the cut outs from first page as moveable covers.

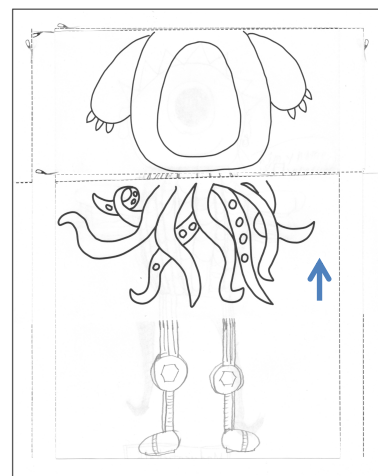

Play: Two or three people can play this game together. You'll need a blank letter size paper to put under the frame. As shown below, take turn drawing the head, body, and feet of your creature. Once a body part is done, use the cover to hide your work, and it's next person's turn to draw. After everyone finishes, remove the frame to reveal the collaborative art you've created together!

1. The first person draws the head. When finished, move the body cover to the top to cover the head.

2. With first person's work covered, the second person draws the body. When finished, move the feet cover up to hide their work.

3. The next person draws the feet. When finished, remove the whole frame to reveal your collaboration!
